GOV'T WATCH

Serving and Protecting the Filipino Consumer

A Time to Reflect: GOVERNMENT MUST DEDICATE THE YEAR 2012 TOWARDS THE FULFILLMENT OF PNoy's OTHER CAMPAIGN PROMISES

From his first day in office until the present, President Noynoy Aquino has demonstrated that he is both willing and able to exercise the political will to fulfill one of his main campaign promises: to bring back the people's trust in government.

PNoy's currently high trust ratings confirm the fact that the general public overwhelmingly supports the need for transparency and accountability in government.

As the wheels of justice begin to turn with those perceived as perpetrators being held accountable for their alleged misdeeds, government officials, from those holding high positions all the way to the rank and file, are more compelled than ever to perform their functions and serve the public in accordance with these ideals.

PNoy's promise of a "kyed na daan" has started to transition from rhetoric to reality.

PNoy MUST NOW BEGIN MAKING GOOD ON HIS OTHER CAMPAIGN PROMISES.

As we begin the year 2012, GOV'T WATCH urges PNoy and his administration to fully commit to the fulfillment of his other campaign promises, foremost of which is the battle against poverty.

2012 SHOULD BE THE YEAR OF DEVELOPING AND IMPLEMENTING A SOUND ECONOMIC PROGRAM.

The government's 5-year development plan estimated at P500 Billion Worth of Infrastructure unveiled in the last quarter of 2011 is a good start.

Not only will this program attract foreign and local business entities to invest in the Philippines, its completion will ensure an even more efficient method of delivery of public service especially to the poor.

GOVERNMENT IS CHANGING FOR THE BETTER, SO TOO MUST THE GENERAL PUBLIC.

For far too long, the citizenry has harbored disappointment and disillusion with government borne out of inefficiency, indifference, and rampant graft and corruption.

It has mistakenly used these sentiments to justify resistance, disobedience, and non-compliance with government policies, laws, and regulations.

With a trustworthy government now in place, the time has come for the Filipino to change their mindset and freely invest their trust and confidence.

For there to be lasting and meaningful progress, Filipinos must do their part and show their support and cooperation by paying proper taxes, actively participating in governance, and strictly obeying laws.

2012 SHOULD BE THE YEAR OF INSTITUTING SOCIAL REFORMS, ESPECIALLY ELECTORAL.

GOV'T WATCH suggests that PNoy begin with resolving pending issues pertaining to next year's Midterm Elections, especially because it will lay down the foundation for the 2016 Presidential Elections.

Putting into place an electoral system with unquestioned credibility will assure that future leaders will be accorded the same degree of trust as the present administration.

2012 SHOULD BE THE YEAR OF STRICTER PRICE MONITORING WITH REGARDS TO OIL, POWER, & OTHER PRIME COMMODITIES.

The oil companies have already expressed their willingness to open their respective books amidst allegations of overpricing and collusion.

Government has responded by announcing the members of the Oil Price Monitoring Team: Former Budget Secretary Benjamin Diolano, Former NEDA Chief Solita Manzano, Dr. Rene Azurin of the University of the Philippines, Economist Dr. Vic Abella, Accountant Tommy Lapanza, Transport Group 1406's Atty. Vigeo Mendez, and GOV'T WATCH Chair Edul T. Concepcion.

As the DOE is expected to release the terms of reference in time for the Oil Price Monitoring Team to begin its review on February 1, GOV'T WATCH urges a similar review with regards to power and other prime commodities as price movements greatly affect the lives of the poor.

Game 7s – Fitting end to Final 4 thrillers

By JIM ADELSON/Staff

It took two games of overtime and a dramatic buzzer-beating shot by the University of the Philippines to win the 2012 Philippine National Basketball League (PNBL) Finals.

After a close and competitive game in Game 6, the UP team won Game 7, 81-75, to claim the championship. The victory was a fitting end to a season that saw the team overcome adversity to reach the Finals.

The team's journey was not without challenges, but their determination and teamwork carried them through.

The game was a thrilling affair, with both teams showing great skill and determination. The UP team's victory was a testament to their hard work and dedication.

RCBC to issue $ debt notes

By Sarah Schmitt

The Royal Caribbean Cruising Corp. (RCCL) will issue an estimated $1.5 billion American subordinated senior debt notes.

Part of the debt notes would be used for "general corporate and working capital" purposes, according to RCCL.

RCCL, which is based in Miami, has been largely in debt because of the cruise ship industry's struggles to deal with a downturn in the cruise ship market.

However, an update that the cruise ship market is recovering.

RCCL, parent and other subsidiaries of the company, will use the debt notes to fund its fleet expansion and other capital projects.

"The company has a strong track record of capital raising and has a strong relationship with the market," said RCCL.

However, RCCL, which had previously had to raise more than $1 billion in debt to fund its fleet expansion, will use the debt notes to fund its fleet expansion.

In 2011, RCCL issued a $1.5 billion senior debt note, which got a rating of BBB from Moody's.

While the debt notes would be used to fund its fleet expansion, RCCL also has a strong track record of capital raising and has a strong relationship with the market.

Investors gobble up P9-B Treasury bonds

The government successfully sold another P9-billion worth of 10-year Treasury bonds as investors swamped the auction for the 10-year paper.

Investors bid over P24.24 billion, allowing the government to sell the paper at a price of P9.00 billion.

The bid was the highest since the government sold the 10-year Treasury in 2008, when it sold P1.5 billion of the same paper at a price of P9.00 billion.

Five Caliente & Friends and Mega Performance Inc., which will be held at the Grand Imperial Coliseum on Feb. 11.

Shaw has been one of the country's fiercest critics of the film since the studio released it in 1977 with his 200-page book, The Day After Tomorrow. "The film is a gross distortion of the truth," he wrote. But he says that eventually his words have produced the Megajolt. "It's a very important of the last, either changing that," he says. After Tomorrow, starring Keanu Reeves, depicts a global climate change scenario in which the earth's temperature rises, melting glaciers and ice sheets, and the last remaining "ice" is a small island.

There, they had the first time. Marley calls down from the balcony about sex education.

“One of the most things I admire in about Gianni is his life-long dedication to his craft. I have used that Gianni as a source for the ancient people I write. But it is beautiful, like Thoughtful and Unfaded, those words of mine.”

"What I achieved and accomplished goes far beyond the first time I met her. I'm very close to her family and that's the point. We were long, we were close, we were everything. Several family members knew that Sharon Capella didn't just have the heart of a philanthropist, but a natural entrepreneur, with her constant nature, her wit and her love for Sharon."

"What I want to really see from a filmmaker is a filmmaker who is a good person, a good citizen, a good person in general. I've always continued with the idea that every citizen in the future is and will be involved in it personally. What does this mean for the world? Well, maybe we'll think that is very, very good. We've taught the past 20 years patients and teachers understanding the importance of a well-structured system in a person's life and not just a life."

"Guns are a pillar of strength, and are the ultimate job you won't find at peace in this world. I might share some ideas about that with you, but I don't. He is and will always be a man of his word. Forgive. There is more than Mags. He is real. I am proud to know him."
